To Whom It May Concern:

Tammy Cardwell is a conscientious professional who is devoted to student learning. She translates her own excitement in teaching and learning to her students. Tammy is reflective about her teaching and continuously looks for ways to enhance lessons.

I had the pleasure of working on our fifth grade team and taught along side of Tammy. As the district's librarian, I now have the pleasure of helping support the learning for Tammy's students. We work collaboratively together to design lessons that support the students' learning in their classroom. Tammy is always eager to work with myself and my assistants, and offers help when needed.

When teaching, Tammy engages her students in lessons and encourages active participation. She is well organized, determined, and hard working. Her lessons are energetic and she is confident and well-prepared. She is also interested in the subject matter and in her students. She utilizes differentiated instruction techniques effectively ensuring the success of all students.

Tammy brings many skills to her profession. Besides being capable in the classroom, she takes on a leadership role among the staff. Tammy has developed and maintained strong relationships with students, parents, and her coworkers. She will be an asset to any educational program.

If I can be of further assistance in Tammy's teaching future, please do not hesitate to contact me.

Sincerely,
